THE LONG-LIST O'BRIEN.

A reporter of the San Francisco Chronicle made another call upon Mrs P. S. O'Brien at the Baldwin Hotel Wednesday. The lady said, in reply to the questions of the reporter, that while Mr O'Brien's life is not in any immediate danger, he has a very bad attack of pneumonia and suffers so much that her constant care and attention are required. Her time had been so much occupied at the bedside of her husband that she had not had much time to read the papers. Until her husband's health has improved, she would make no statement whatever, either as to how she had discovered that her husband was still alive, nor whether it was their intention to contest the will of her late brother-in-law. The reporter subsequently called upon an old friend of William S. O'Brien, who came to California with him in early days and was his constant companion and comin' up to the day of his death. He stated to the reporter that he knew both P. S. and William S. O'Brien in New York, and had last seen P. S. some time previous to the breaking out of the civil war, he then being a contractor and builder, and a shrewd, intelligent man. He after word had entered the Union army, and after serving only a short time contracted the camp fever and was discharged for physical disability. Word reached here in 1862 that he died in Baltimore while on his way to New York. None of the relatives ever had reason to doubt the fact of his death, and a tombstone was erected to his memory in Baltimore. Previous to his enlistment in the army he had separated from his wife on account of incompatibility of temper, and there is no doubt but that Mrs O'Brien considered herself a widow soon after the death of William S. when word was received by the family in this city that P. S. O'Brien was still alive and resident in Baltimore, North Carolina. It is said that Mrs O'Brien's departure for Baltimore was for the purpose of substantiating the truth of this man's claims, and on making the discovery that he was indeed her long lost husband, she nursed him into a condition for travel and brought him straight through to San Francisco. It is probable her intention to contest the will of the late W. S. O'Brien, unless a compromise should be effected. While her daughter Pauline lives the family will be enabled to live in comparative affluence, as she inherited $300,000 under the terms of the will, but in the event of that young lady's death without issue, the inheritance reverts to another channel, thereby reducing Mrs O'Brien to a condition of comparative poverty.

The family occupies an elegant suite of rooms at the Baldwin, where Mrs O'Brien ministers to the wants of her invalid husband. Miss Pauline is driven down town in a phaeton every day and appears to be the executive member of the family.

NOT A VERY TEMPTING OFFER

The offer of twenty-acre farms along the line of a projected railroad in New Mexico is not a very tempting one. New Mexico has the worst and most hopeless population of any Territory in the whole country. The land produces nothing without irrigation, and water is not abundant. Some shrewd operator may conceive it to be a profitable undertaking to induce settlers to go to that country. But there is nothing there for a poor man of present, and it is not at all likely that any well-to-do people will be led away. There are better opportunities in California for acquiring desirable homesteads than will ever be presented in New Mexico. Except in or near the suburbs of a city, in close proximity to a good market twenty acres is not enough to support comfortably an average family. As a general proposition we would say that the more land one has in New Mexico, the worse off he will be.

IN A NUT SHELL.

The Congressional Committee to whom was referred the bill restricting the owners of vessels bringing more than fifteen Chinese to America at any one trip, and their report in this manner, telling the whole story in a few words.

The whole question is not one of right but of policy. There is no principle on which we are compelled to receive into our midst the natives of Asia, Africa or any other part of the world. The character, source and extent of the immigration should be regulated and controlled with reference to our wants and welfare. The different problems economic and political, resulting from the presence of the red and black races would be renewed in a more aggravated and dangerous form by the presence of the yellow race. The Mongolian, like the Indian, is brought in duty contact with our social and political life and, unlike the African, does not surrender any of his marked peculiarities by reason of the contact. It is neither possible nor desirable for two races as distinct as the Caucasian and Mongolian to live under the same Government without assimilation. The degradation or slavery of one or the other would be the inevitable result. Homogeneity of ideas and of physical and social habits are essential to national harmony and progress. Equally grave objections may be weighed against the Chinese from an industrial standpoint. Our laboring people can not and must not be subjected to competition which involves a surrender of the sacred and elevating influences of home and the sacrifice of the ordinary appliance of peaceful civilization. The question, therefore, is not one of competition, but the substitution of one kind of labor for another. No self governing country can afford to diminish or destroy the dignity, welfare and independence of its citizens. Justice to the people of the Pacific slope, the dictates of common humanity and benevolence, as well as the plainer suggestions of patriotic statesmanship, all demand that the problem of Chinese immigration shall be solved while it is yet within legislative control.

THE DAILY JOURNAL

Is the best daily paper published on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, east of Sacramento, and having a general circulation throughout the State, it is especially valuable as an advertising medium.

THE DAILY AND WEEKLY JOURNAL
Has a combined circulation larger than that of any other journal of Nevada, excepting those in the Comstock.

Strausen denies the story that Adeline Patti is in danger of having a limb amputated because of the fracture of a knee cap.

Mosby admits that he lost his law practice and something of his social status among his Virginia neighbors by joining the Republican party. He has quit his native State for keeps. He thinks that the end of two years he will settle on the Pacific Coast.

TIME works wonders. In 1864 Jubal Early was thundering at the doors of Washington, and gold bounded to 285, making greenbacks worth but 32 cents on the dollar. Now, all is peace, and greenbacks are at par.

THE UNITED STATES MAIL SERVICE OF 1878 is compared with the same in 1857, as follows: "Twelve times as much mail is carried two and one-third times the distance, more than twice as often, at about two and one-half times the expense.

THERE is a whisper of a grand lottery scheme, sanctioned by the Legislature, and patterned after the famous Mercantile Library Lottery that took place in California some years since. The object of the project hinted at is the erection of an Insurance Asylum.

A WASHINGTON dispatch to a New York journal says, Mr. Evarts says that the people of this country are not troubling themselves now about who is to be the next President of the United States. He says between April and November, 1880, the people will make up their minds on this important question, and not before. All the excitement now on this question is confined to a few anxious as pirates, but the people take no interest in it."

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, evidently speaking by the card, gives the following as the status of Senator Sharon's political sentiments: Senator Sharon is a thorough-going Grant man. He has little doubt that Grant will be the Republican candidate in 1880. He thinks highly of his "integrity, intellect, will, patriotism and thorough unselfishness." The possible candidates in case Grant is not taken, he thinks, are Sherman and Blaine. The Republicans will elect their candidate, whoever he is, and will regain control of both Houses of Congress. As for sectionalism, the interests of the North and Great West will soon override everything of that kind.

THE ARIZONA PAPERS continue their praises of Governor Fremont, who is the most popular man in the territory. He has already visited many parts of the territory, and made himself acquainted with the needs of the people, and the resources of the country. The Governor is taking a lively interest in the Indians, whose rights he defends, and whose condition he endeavors to improve. If General Fremont shall hold his present place in the affections of the Arizona people until the dependency is admitted into the Union as a State, he will not be dismissed without an appropriate reward, such as the citizens of a territory know how to bestow upon a federal officer who has proven himself a man of honor, honesty and integrity.

SIR WILLIAM ARMSTRONG, best known as the inventor of the Armstrong guns, lights his library successfully with an electric current produced by a waterfall, 1,500 yards distant. A Siemens machine of the smallest type is employed to generate the current, and this is conveyed to the lamp and back again to the machine by a copper wire of three tenths of an inch diameter, suspended at intervals from iron posts. Sir William intends to put up a larger machine at the source of water power, and to use the smaller one as a motor for working lathes and other tools at his experimental workshop during the daytime, while reserving the faculty of lighting his principal apartments in the evening.

EDITORIAL JOBS.

JOHNNY CONNELL, the ex-U. S. Senator of California, is running for Alderman in Boston. He has left us forever, has Johnny, and now wants to electrify the Hubites. Judging from public sentiment he could not get elected pound master in California.

The investigation into the school frauds continues in San Francisco, and the guilt is being fastened upon the offenders. Ewald, who seems to have been the chief sinner, has disappeared and the most diligent search fails to produce him. The investigation will result in nothing practical if the offenders are not punished. Milk and water justice will not do. Severe measures will prevent a repetition.

The people of Nevada City seem to have given the Chinese question a practical solution. It is simply this: Don't hire them. This policy has had the effect of driving away nearly all of the mooneyes. The Chinese population has decreased two thirds and those who remain will go soon. True they are on the coast somewhere, but a general movement of this character would compel them to return to China. It is the white putzouge that keeps them here. With out it the end is accomplished.

At the quarterly conference of the Mormon Church, held at Salt Lake City last Saturday, the following statistical information was given: The church in Utah has: Apostles, 7; counsellors to the Twelve Apostles, 2; patriarchs, 6; seventies, 1,130; high priests, 483; elders, 1,643; priests, 149; teachers, 174; deacons, 665; members, 10,423; total officers and members, 14,687; children under eight, 5,528; total souls, 20,215; families, 4,056; marriages, 43; births, (males,) 96; (females,) 83; children blessed, 215; members received, 217; members removed, 207; baptised, 189; deaths, (males,) 52; deaths, (females,) 27; excommunicated, 13; individuals drawing support, 239; amount of support drawn, $673.31; amount of fast day donation $593.74.

The women who constitute the organization called relief of societies, made a report for the year 1878 with the following showing: Teachers, 37; members, 1,357; total officers and members, 1,737; meetings held, 445; average attendance, 518.

The negroes who emigrated from South Carolina to Liberia are not having such a good time of it as they expected. At first their sufferings were severe, and many of them would have returned to this country could they have done so. Some improvements in their circumstances has recently been made as will be seen by the following extract from a letter written by one of the colonists: "Provisions are now plenty, but they are not what we used to eat. It went hard at first, but we got used to it now. Coffee is plenty, and so is sugar, and so is jams; but meat we hardly ever eat except on Sundays, when we have roast monkey for dinner. It's mighty dry eating, and needs hard; but that you can't get for for love of money."

LUTTRELL appeared before the House Committee on Education and Labor Thursday to advocate speedy action on the Chinese question. He said unless something were done by Congress the people would regulate the matter for themselves; that Kearney had thousands of followers, some of the best men in the State, and he feared that if relief were not obtained from the federal government the people would rise up, as did our fathers, and throw the Chinamen overboard. After he had retired the committee proceeded with consideration of Willis' report, which had been prepared for their adoption sometime previously.

CAPTAIN BOGDARDIS concluded his shooting feat at Gilmore's Garden Thursday. He broke 6,000 glass balls in 6,013 shots—breaking 5,680 balls without a miss.

TEXAS has 1,700 convicts, of whom some 500 are kept in prison, and the rest are hired out to work on railroads and farms. One, undergoing a life sentence, is hired by his wife, and lives comfortable at home.

The Irish Skirmishing Fund now amounts to $74,907, and the Trustees, having decided not to buy any dynamite with it, are at a loss what to do with the money.

The Jeannette, James Gordon Bennett's steam yacht that is to go in search of the north pole, has arrived at San Francisco.

THE NEW ANTI-CHINESE BILL.

From a Distinguished Physician.

AN entirely new anti-Chinese bill was reported in the House of Representatives, Thursday, by the Committee on Education and Labor, accompanied by a report, prepared by Willis, strongly urging its passage. The text of the bill is not furnished by telegraph, but from the report of the committee we are informed that it provides that no master of a vessel shall take on board at any port in China more than fifteen Chinese passengers with intent to bring them to the United States in any one vessel. A violation of this provision is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100 for each passenger in excess of the number and imprisonment for six months. The penalty is made a lien upon the vessel. The master is required, under like penalties, to report on his arrival a sworn list of all Chinese passengers. The bill will go into effect, if passed, on the first of next July. In reporting the measure, it is argued that not only is restrictive legislation demanded by public interests, but that it is unquestionably within the constitutional power of Congress to enact laws in convention of treaties or to repeal them altogether. This is bold, broad ground, but it comports alike with common sense, and the dignity of the nation. The bill doubtless contains additional provisions interdicting the shipment of Chinese in excess of the number mentioned from other than Chinese ports to the United States; otherwise, they might be brought in limitless hordes from China by way of Melbourne or some other foreign port. The report is very able. It says: "Our laboring people cannot and must not be subjected to competition which involves a surrender of the sacred and elevating influences of home and the sacrifice of the ordinary appliances of peaceful civilization." The people of the Pacific Coast may joyfully hail this bill as the beginning of the end of the Chinese scourge.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MY safely claim to be one of the few popular physicians receiving the approval of individual patients, who, in private, and only from a desire to be of service, have given me the privilege of prescribing for them the popular preparations.

"I am aware that a distinguished city physician, that my obligation to him and my desire to be of service to him, has caused me to prescribe for him the radical Cure, but this Cure is so much in relief from the use of it itself, after a thorough trial of the various remedies, I have privately advised it to me, and presume I have not to you more no less than one hundred of my patients."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN.—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say cordially that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction.

We have the right of recommending particular medicines, and the information meets the wants of thousands, and we think those offend and will be continued of its great merits; that he is sufficient will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for over twenty years constantly, and can say that we have never sold a preparation that gave such universal satisfaction.

Very truly yours, S. J. BALDWIN & CO.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER.

An Electro-Salvatic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best Plaster for Bone and Tissue in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY.

As a grand creative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Unlike the vital spark has filled the body, restoration by means of Electricity is positive, creative, restorative, and the most powerful and invigorating agent known. It has a thousandfold power, and has no equal in any human enemy could have exceeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine, and the gums of the Far East are too well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, sooth ing and aromatic properties are well known to all. We have a new and important discovery in this Plaster, their healing and restorative properties increased manifold. In this expect our Plaster the best in use without the aid of Electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and yet yields a cure greater than any hitherto known. Wash, or plaster over before coming to the doctor. In this expect our Plaster the best in use without the aid of Electricity.

Both of above mentioned crops are much superior to anything grown since them, and Messrs. L. B. & Co. had the forethought and capital to lay in a sufficient supply to last until the 17th crop will be sufficiently cured to be worked to advantage, as the latter crop is now it is entirely unfit to be worked for at least 8 months to come as it tastes bitter, cooks some what and has a copper color. DR. SPINNEY,
NO. 11 KEARNEY STREET
TREATS ALL
Chronic and Special Diseases.

YOUNG MEN

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM THE effects of youthful follies or indiscretions will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfit $300 for every case of Seminal weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

These are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weaking of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposit aropy sediment will often be found and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DR. SPINNEY & CO.,
No. 11 Kearney St., San Francisco,
